

Super Salamander

Tiger salamanders may be as long as fourteen inches! They live in wetland areas in the United States and Canada. They eat worms, snails, and insects. We need to protect wetlands. Most of the animals who live in wetlands (like salamanders) cannot live anywhere else. Follow the directions below to make your own tiger salamander.

Color your tiger salamander dark brown with yellow spots. Cut out your salamander and fold the neck and legs as shown.
