

The temperature in a parked car can reach 120°F in a matter of minutes. Pets left in hot cars can suffer from heat exhaustion, heat stroke, brain damage, and can even die.

Keep pets safe.

Don't leave them in parked cars on warm days.

The temperature in a parked car can reach 120°F in a matter of minutes. Pets left in hot cars can suffer from heat exhaustion, heat stroke, brain damage, and can even die.

Keep pets safe.

Don't leave them in parked cars on warm days.

The temperature in a parked car can reach 120°F in a matter of minutes. Pets left in hot cars can suffer from heat exhaustion, heat stroke, brain damage, and can even die.

Keep pets safe.

Don't leave them in parked cars on warm days.

The temperature in a parked car can reach 120°F in a matter of minutes. Pets left in hot cars can suffer from heat exhaustion, heat stroke, brain damage, and can even die.

Keep pets safe.

Don't leave them in parked cars on warm days.

The temperature in a parked car can reach 120°F in a matter of minutes. Pets left in hot cars can suffer from heat exhaustion, heat stroke, brain damage, and can even die.

Keep pets safe.

Don't leave them in parked cars on warm days.

The temperature in a parked car can reach 120°F in a matter of minutes. Pets left in hot cars can suffer from heat exhaustion, heat stroke, brain damage, and can even die.

Keep pets safe.

Don't leave them in parked cars on warm days.